Dear Church,

As you all know, we hosted CBF Kentucky here at FBC this past week. What you may not know—if your schedule prevented you from joining us—was how much of a success the event was. And by “success” I don’t simply mean that the business conducted here was successful—though indeed it was; rather, I mean that our church’s role as host was successful. Very successful. Over the course of the weekend I had countless people tell me how impressed they were by our church’s hospitality, organization, presentation, and commitment.

So please take this brief note as my way of saying thank you. Thank you to everyone who had a role in making this event such a success. From those who helped clean the church to those who helped mow the lawns and beautify the grounds; from those who helped organize the meals to those who helped prepare them; from those who helped consider the weekend’s logistics to those who helped carry those logistics out; from those who served in worship to those who came and worshiped with us; to those who took time to serve as greeters to those who took time to come out and be part of the weekend’s sessions. Each of you made this event what it was. And moreover, each of you helped show the rest of CBF Kentucky that there is no friendlier, more loving, more hospitable, more servant-minded fellowship in the world than the one right here at First Baptist Church of Corbin, Kentucky.

All my love,
Austin
