Stained Glass Saints

Today we remember
Ray and Ruby Parker

Ray and Ruby Parker went to First Baptist because it was the closest church to their home. They could walk because they didn't have a car. Both worked in the church. Ray taught the young boys Sunday School class. He had cookouts and other activities for them. Ruby started helping in the Cradle Roll because her girls would not stay without her. She continued to teach Sunday School ending with the teenage girls. Ruby helped in other departments too. She prepared the Lord's Supper, helped with baptism, worked in Bible School, had quilting sessions and put out flowers around the church yard. Ray and Ruby were faithful in tithing and attending church with their children. Members like them make up the backbone of the church.
