

Sine nomine is a Latin phrase that means “without a name.” SINE NOMINE is also the tune name associated with the hymn, “For All the Saints.” This vision honors the First Baptist saints from the past by building on their foundation, it calls present-day saints to dream and plan and work, and it provides a framework for future First Baptist saints to serve God in this location. This vision includes both temporal and spiritual aspects, and encourages the church to use its assets to further the building of God’s kingdom. Included are:

1. a new entry/atrium that allows access (by stairs/ramps/elevator) to all parts of the building. It also serves as an obvious entryway into the church building,
2. (a). a covered walkway/façade on Laurel Avenue that physically and stylistically connects our three buildings, making them a unified whole, (b). restroom/restrooms on the NW corner of the sanctuary building,
3. restroom/restrooms for the 3rd floor Youth Suite,
4. a plan by which residents of Sojourn House partner with our Mustard Seed Garden to work the garden and to sell produce and/or products from the garden (cottage industry),
5. a soup kitchen operated from Rainbow House,
6. the acquisition of property on Laurel Avenue (other side of overpass); the building of “tiny houses” and/or garden homes – in partnership with Baptist Housing or Sojourn House,
7. a plan to remodel and rename the Family Life Center, forming the John T. Dunaway Missions and Ministry Center – housing the Food Pantry, White Flag Ministry, and space for interns and/or traveling mission groups,
8. an endowment that funds the salary/stipend for a missions pastor and/or interns,
9. a dream where the church comes to more closely resemble the kingdom of God, where

- *old and young,
- *male and female,
- *gay and straight,
- *a variety of ethnicities,
- *new members and long-term members,
- *the permanently housed, the newly housed, the “not-yet housed,”
- *those who live around the corner and those who drive a distance to get here, and
- *mature Christians and new Christians are able to worship and work together to build God’s kingdom in this place.

Cookbooks are here!

We are pleased to report that we have cookbooks for sale in the office. The price is $25 and we think you’ll agree that they are beautiful and packed with wonderful recipes. The proceeds from the sales will be divided between our “White Flag Ministry” and “Mustard Seed Garden.”

Let’s spread the word to family and friends! They will not only have a fabulous collection of recipes but will also be supporting ministries that benefit our community.

Thank You,
Your FBC Cookbook Committee

Sunday School Take Over
First Baptist has a long history of benevolent ministries from Baptist Housing to the Food Pantry to the Shoebox ministries; from the Mustard Seed Garden to the youth outreach to Winter Relief. Please bring your Sunday School Class to join Austin Carty as he leads a book study on Steve Corbett’s When Helping Hurts: How to Alleviate Poverty without Hurting the Poor and Yourself. Gain a better understanding of the effects of poverty, learn what being an ‘image bearer’ means and discuss ways our benevolence can become even more effective and transformational. Books are available in the office for $12.00. (Used copies are also available on Amazon for much less.)

All adult classes will meet in the Fellowship Hall promptly at 9:30 a.m. on March 4th, 11th, 18th and 25th. A light breakfast will be served beginning at 9:15a.m.
