

Stained Glass Saints

Today we remember Mr. Jim Cobb

This week, our Stained Glass Saint is Jim Cobb, beloved husband of Fredina. Jim and his family spent many years in the halls, rooms, gatherings, and ministries of First Baptist Church. Jim began attending FBC during Dr. E.O. Edwards' tenure. He truly loved people and enjoyed getting to know them. He had a routine of meeting at Hardee's most mornings for coffee. There, because of his heart for others, he would buy a stranger breakfast every time he went. This went on for a long time, and, after a conversation with Fredina, Jim knew it was the right thing to do.

Being an Army man, Jim understood what it meant to be faithful and committed. Perhaps his most faithful service to FBC was driving the church van on Sunday mornings and picking up other faithful members, saints like Eleanor Meadors, Anna Mae Setzer, Cora Lee White, Lissie Jones, Maxine Bolding, and Orie Siler. Jim was also a deacon and served on many committees, including the sanctuary committee overseeing the remodel. For Jim Cobb, one of our Stained Glass Saints, we give thanks to God.

While business meetings may not be the most celebrated aspect of congregational faith, they are of supreme importance in continuing the good work of God's church. At our quarterly business meeting in September, we voted in a new slate of deacons, committee members, and officers. These rosters are always available at the office. We are quite fortunate to have so many faithful members to serve and lead our church, and this new slate will benefit the work of the Kingdom in our church greatly.

The other notable vote at the meeting was the passing of the Fiscal Year '22-'23 budget. Our current fiscal year, which ends on September 30, was a difficult financial year for many of us. Inflation and other financial stresses impacted our church members and families, which impacted our giving. The finance committee responded to this by putting in a lot of time and effort to create a friendlier budget for our giving situation. In total, they were able to trim around $40,000 from our budget. I am grateful for their hard work. A copy of the budget is always available at the office.

In doing their part, the finance committee has called us to do our part. For example, we are asking everyone to contact the office and sign up anew for our weekly newsletter, The Builder. Your three options are a virtual copy via email, a physical copy via mail, or a physical copy printed and made available for pick up at the church. This provides the church the opportunity to save on printed materials and postage. Choose which option is best for you. We also ask that if you receive giving envelopes in the mail but choose to give online, that you would let us know so we can save on postage/materials. Another measure we have taken, in agreement with our Wednesday night dinner participants, is that we have raised the cost of our Wednesday night meals to $8.00.

Financially, we are in a healthy place because of sustained generosity throughout the decades from you, our faithful members. With this new budget, these new measures, and a hopeful outlook for the future, we trust our giving will help us continue God's good work here for years to come! Thanks be to God for all good gifts and the faithfulness of those who call this church home!

In Christ, Alex
