

Dear Church,

Next weekend promises to be a very exciting weekend at FBC. First, on Friday, April 29th, we will meet for our Faith and Film series, where we'll be screening To Kill a Mockingbird—the classic Gregory Peck film based on the even-more-classic Harper Lee novel. The film is widely regarded as one of the best of all time, and I highly encourage you to come join us for both the screening and the discussion that will immediately follow.

Then, on Sunday, May 1st, we will be holding a dedication event in our new community garden, complete with breakfast and program. The event will begin at 9AM, and it will last through the Sunday school hour. This is an opportunity to come view the garden, pray over its future, hear more about the ministry, learn how to get involved, and meet people who have helped bring the ministry to fruition.

Finally, Sunday evening at 6PM we will meet for the Faith and Culture Café at You and Me Coffee and Tea. I will be giving a 25 minute talk on forgiveness called “Les Miserables, Don Henley, and The Dixie Chicks: I Think It’s About Forgiveness.” The talk will be followed by 25 minutes of discussion, and we will be finished by 7PM.

Each of these events, of course, is part of The Wholeness Project, our on-going commitment to spend 2016 loving God with our whole person—with our bodies, our minds, our souls, and our spirits. So mark your calendars for the final weekend of April, and together let’s journey deeper into the wholeness to which God is calling us. I, for one, can hardly wait!

See you soon,

Austin

A new commandment I give to you . . .

. . . that you love one another.
Just as I have loved you,
you also should love one another.
